

Statistics support and teaching forum Sept 10th 2013, 5pm

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Name: University: Email: Priorities: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1.2.3. | Resource development |
| Training/ workshops | Supporting each other |

Please return to the Sheffield MASH team (Chetna, Ellen and Elizabeth) by the end of the conference. Thanks.

Centralised resources for statistics

What's available?

- Statstutor aims to provide centralised resources for statistics support
- Other recommended websites/ books?

What would help

- Could vetted links be provided as well as worksheets?
- Ideas for statistics teaching e.g. A list of interesting examples to use in teaching

Training for those who teach statistics

What's available?

- HEA have workshops for PG's and new lecturers teaching in MSOR departments
- RSS have consultancy skills workshop Jan 2014

What would help?

- Workshops for new statistics support tutors/ teachers of non-statisticians
- Quick guide for new tutors
- Statistics training for teachers without statistics qualifications

Who would run any workshops, how would we get funding etc?

Supporting those who teach statistics?

Previous events

- Statistics support meeting Sheffield Nov 2012
- Supporting the development of students statistical skills Liverpool Jan 2013
- Lancaster podcasts

What would help?

- Conferences/ workshops to share teaching techniques
- Teaching circles within universities
- Ideas for teaching general workshops
- Helping universities with little stats support