

Pharmacy

Meeting the mathematics needs of pharmacy students – 19th November 2014

Room 301 Liverpool John Moores University, Byrom Street, Liverpool 3AF

Agenda

- 10.00 - Welcome and coffee in room 301, 3rd floor via lift from Reception
- 10.30 - Introduction from Peter Byers, Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Education), Liverpool John Moores University
- 10.40 - Enhancing the mathematical education of undergraduates: the role of sigma and the mathematics support community. Professor Tony Croft, sigma Director, Mathematics Education Centre, Loughborough University
- 11.20 - Pharmacy students' perspective. Emma Bolton MPharm ARPharmS, British Pharmaceutical Students' Association Educational Development Officer
- 12.00 - Pharmacy regulator's insight. Lisa Smith, Question Writing Coordinator, General Pharmaceutical Council
- 12.40 - Lunch in room 301
- 13.20 - A contextualised diagnostic numeracy test: What? When? Why? and How? Sion Coulman, Senior Lecturer, Cardiff School of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences
- 13.50 - The feasibility and impact of e-learning in pharmaceutical calculation teaching. Reem Kayyali, Associate Professor, Kingston University
- 14.20 - Counting the problems with Maths: A Pharmacy Diagnosis. Bridgeen Callan, Course Director for MSci Pharmaceutical Biosciences, School of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, University of Ulster
- 14.50 - Comfort break
- 15.00 - Intern experiences. Abi Francis and Umar Al-Khateeb, MPharm undergraduate students at Liverpool John Moores University
- 15.20 - Using PASS to pass, Mary Rhodes, Lecturer, Manchester Pharmacy School
- 15.40 - Using Blackboard Learn pools to support calculations learning. Bob Morris, Lecturer in Clinical Pharmacy, Liverpool John Moores University
- 16.00 - sigma and pharmacy educators working together. Leslie Fletcher, Mathematics Resource and Support Centre, Liverpool John Moores University
- 16.20 - Close

British Pharmaceutical Students' Association
The Official Student Organisation of the Royal Pharmaceutical Society

General
Pharmaceutical Council